

How the Animals got

Colors

By _V_ (Vaibhavi)

There were three sisters Land, Water and Air.

They had many children who were white in color.

One day sister Land thought that all the kids are in white color and it is hard to tell who is who.

So all the sisters decided to give their children colors.

The land had 17 kids so she choose 17 colors for all of them.

She called them all in the afternoon.

Light Brown color for Monkey .

Grey color for Elephant 🐘 and Mouse 🐭.

Pink color for Pig 🐷

Brown color for Squirrel 🐿️ , Deer 🦌 , Horse 🐎 , and Kangaroo 🐘.

Orange color for Fox

Now, 9 of her kids had different colors and 3 were left but there was color left for 8 children.

Land gave all those colors to Dog 🐶, Cat 🐱, and Snake 🐍.

Everyone went to play
and then at night
Rabbit, Cow, Zebra,
Panda, and Sheep came.

Land was very angry at them and all of them remained in white color only.

But a mother loves all her children dearly, so in the morning she brought some black paint.

She gave black patches to Cow  and Panda 🐼 .

Black stripes to Zebra.

But then, all the paint got over and sheep and rabbit were still left.

Sheep said that mother
I do not need any color

because I should suffer for my mistakes.

Then Pig came and gave some of his pink color to Rabbit and painted his ears.

Moral of the Story -

We should always listen to our mother and do as she says.
